

Amanda Collins

Amanda Collins is the chief of staff of The Grammar Doctors, a boutique marketing-communications firm that partners with business owners and job seekers to develop and implement strategies to accelerate results. The Grammar Doctors specializes in writing website content, articles, blogs, newsletters, press releases, advertisements, and résumés, as well as copyediting for authors and students.

In addition to The Grammar Doctors, Amanda is also the editor in chief of and major contributor to Jetset Magazine, the affluent lifestyle magazine. She serves on the board of directors of Networking Training Employment Professionals Association (NETPA), IMPACT for Enterprising Women, Brookline College, and Résumé Writers Council of Arizona. She is a frequent presenter in the Phoenix area, having spoken at LaidOff Camp, DeVry College, NETPA, and various networking groups. Amanda has been covered in the press on Good Morning Arizona, The Arizona Republic, The Phoenix Business Journal, AM Arizona, KFNX, and KJZZ, Phoenix's National Public Radio affiliate.